

iTradeGlobal – So much for free!

On top of a great trading platform where you can trade or invest on 20 global markets in more than 11,000 shares there are so much that you can subscribe to at no cost.

1. Free live prices for most of Europe.

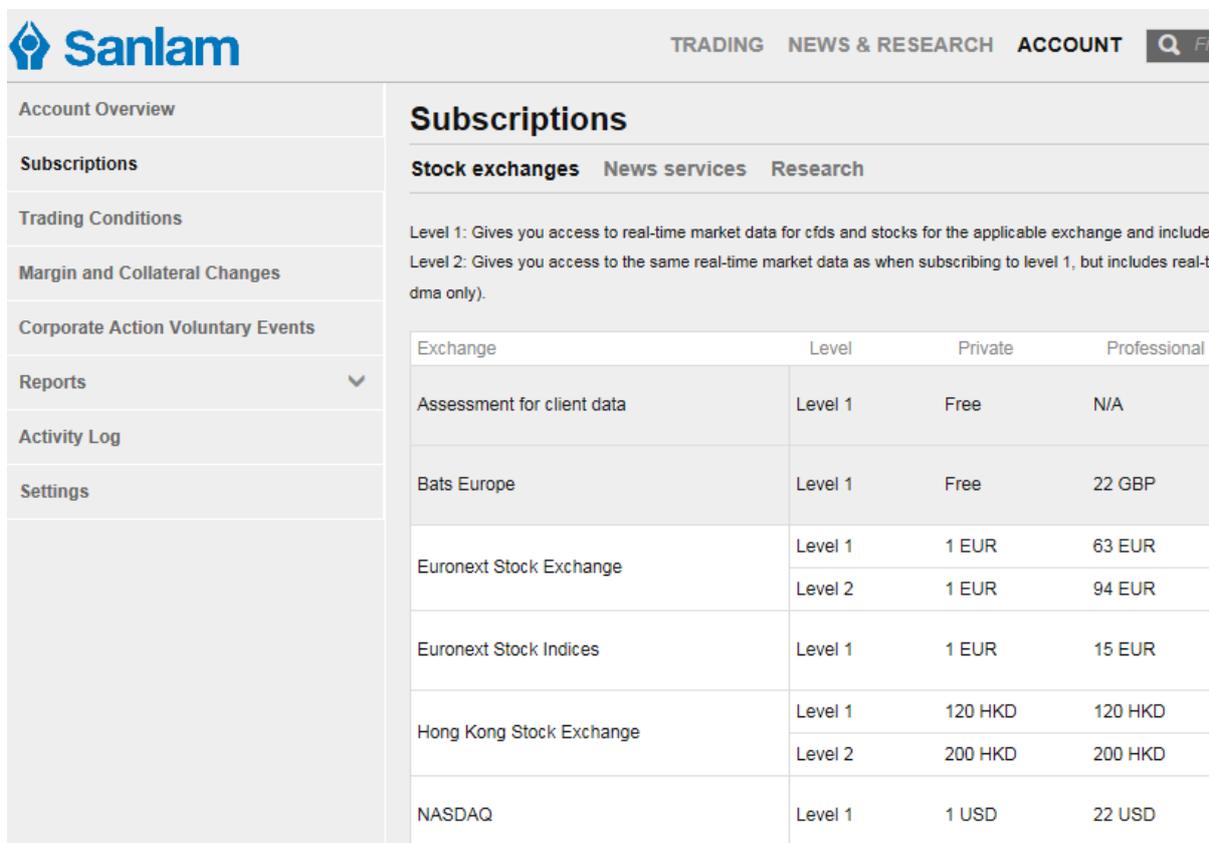

You will see that there is no indicator in the Delay column which means it is live. It also tells you when it was last updated.

The screenshot shows the Sanlam trading platform interface. At the top, there are navigation tabs for TRADING, NEWS & RESEARCH, and ACCOUNT. Below this, there are sections for Watchlists and Alerts. A dropdown menu is set to 'Stocks UK'. The main table displays a list of stocks with columns for Instrument, Last Traded, Bid, Ask, % Change, Net Change, Last Update, and Delay. The 'Delay' column is empty for all listed stocks, indicating live prices. The last update times are all 5:35:18 PM or 5:35:29 PM.

Below is a snapshot of their research discussing a potential breakout in Texas Instruments.

Potential breakout in Texas Instruments

Background Shares of semiconductor stocks such as Texas Instruments have seen a sharp rally over the past month and a half. While they increasingly look overextended through a multi-week/month lens in the nearer-term some further upside could be played using a breakout pattern.

When Texas Instruments reported its latest quarterly results on July 25 the company issued strong forward guidance. Traders were quick to like this news and rallied the stock the following day.

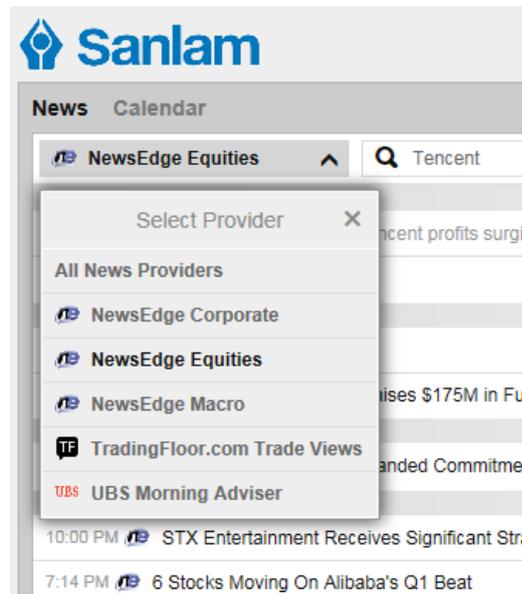

Before looking at the daily chart for the specific trade setup let's note that on the multi-year weekly chart this most recent vertical leap in TXN stock has now pushed it back to the very upper end of the multi-year ascending trading channel. Through a multi-week/month lens without any meaningful multi-week/month consolidation phase first this is likely not a great spot to be buying the stock.

3. Free NewsEdge news.

For news on equities, Corporates, Macro Economics and more, subscribe to NewsEdge news at no cost. You can also search for news on a specific company like Tencent in this case.

This news below came hot off the press on 17 August. Profits jumped 47%. Can you believe they have 806 million active users on WeChat or Weixin as it is called in mainland China? 800 MILLION! Good news for Naspers who jumped 8% on the news.

WeChat sends China's Tencent profits surging

Hong Kong, Aug 17, 2016 (AFP) -

Chinese Internet giant Tencent said Wednesday its profits jumped by 47 percent in the second quarter, buoyed by new users of its popular messaging service WeChat, gaming and digital content.

Net profit for the three months to June rose to 10.74 billion yuan ($1.62 billion) from 7.31 billion yuan in the same period last year, beating the average analyst estimate of 9.52 billion yuan according to a Bloomberg survey.

Revenue jumped by 52 percent from 23.43 billion yuan to 35.69 billion yuan, the technology company said.

Based in the Chinese southern export hub of Shenzhen, Tencent operates China's biggest messaging service WeChat, through which a variety of businesses including gaming, advertising and social networking have flourished in recent years.

Monthly active users for WeChat -- known as Weixin in Chinese -- reached 806 million from 600 million in June last year.
